"THE MERCHANT OF VENICE."

Ben Greet Players Give Performance After Elizabethan Manner.

The Ben Greet Players gave an interesting performance of "The Merchant of Venice," after the Elizabethan manner, at the Belasco Theater last night, with Ben Greet as Shylock, Miss Keith Wakeman as Portia, and the remaining members of the company suitably cast.

This production is one of the best in the repertoire of the company, excelling as the latter does in the presentation of Shakespearean plays and particularly in the exhibiting of the Elizabethan method for educational purposes. Mr. Greet gave a splendid impersonation of the "Jew that Shakespeare drew," working up the old man's sorrows and wrongs so as to almost win our complete sympathy, and then causing a sudden revulsion to disgust by cruelty and mercenary feelings.

The Portia of Miss Wakeman is charming, inducing into the traditional aspect of the role a fine personality. Her work in the three great episodes, the casket scene, the trial scene, and the ring scene at the close, were all fully up to the historical requirements, and her whole characterization was distinguished for intelligence, grace, and personal charm.

The supporting company was capable, including J. Raynes Crawley as Bassanio, Robert Pigott as Antonio, A. Hyatt Allen as Gratiano, J. S. McQueen as Salarano, E. B. Yedeker as Lorenzo, Robert Gray as Tubal, Percival Seigrist as Launcelot, Violet Vivian as Nerissa, Grace Halsey Mills as Jessica, George Vivian as Duke of Venice, R. W. Jarvis as Prince of Morocco, George Vivian as Duke of Arragon, and others. The play will be repeated to-night, and on Friday and Saturday "The Comedy of Errors" will be given.

E. ROLAND WEDS MISS MILLER

Many Other Weddings Contribute to Make the Month of June a Notable One This Year—District People Attend Marriage of Mr. Louis C. Wilson to Miss Frederick in Ohio.

One of the most interesting weddings of this month of brides will be that of Miss Elizabeth Bryan Ewing, daughter of Mrs. Frances Ewing, to Rev. George Atmore Sparrow, of Gastonia, N. C., which takes place Wednesday, June 29, at noon, in the home of the bride's mother in this city. Miss Ewing will be attended by her sister, Miss Jeanne Pendleton Ewing, as maid of honor, and the best man will be a close friend of the bridegroom, Mr. Anderson, of Gastonia. This will be a small home wedding, and the future home of the couple will be in Gastonia. The bride belongs to one of the most distinguished families of the District of Columbia. She is related to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, Mr. Horace Wiley, and many other families of prominence among the old residents. They are what are known as "cave dwellers."

The marriage of Miss Grace Miller, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, to Mr. Edward Roland, son of the late Mr. William Conrad Roland, of Tyler, Tex., took place last evening in the home of the bride's brother, Dr. Maurice E. Miller, 1618 H street, in the presence of the members of the families of the contracting parties and an improvised wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles E. Guthrie, pastor of Hamline M. E. Church, and was followed by a bridal supper. The house, which had been identified with society during the lives of Mrs. Maurice Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Beveridge, was tastefully decorated. The front drawing-room, where the ceremony was performed, was extremely pretty, with an improvised altar, decked with daisies and bride roses. Tall vases of American Beauties and bride roses stood in effective spots about the room. The dining-room was all in yellow, the dining-room in pink, with carnations and roses, and the broad staircase festooned with trailing vines. The mantels were banked with bride roses and American Beauties, and a string orchestra played the wedding music.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Etta Miller, and the best man was Mr. Arthur Demaray, of St. Paul, Minn. Misses Helen and Lillian Miller, nieces of the bride, held the ribbons. The bride was given in marriage to the bridegroom by Dr. Miller, with whom she entered the drawing-room. She wore a princess gown of ivory satin, with a bolero effect of baby Irish lace, studded with pearls. Her veil of real lace, which was worn by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Maurice Miller, at her wedding, was held with orange blossoms. She carried a shower of lilies of the valley and bride roses, and her only ornament was a crescent of pearls and amethysts, the latter being her birth stone. The maid of honor wore pink crepe de chine, with pearl trimmings and a tulle drapery of chiffon. She carried pink sweet peas tied with pink ribbons.

After the ceremony and reception, the bride and bridegroom left for a bridal tour to Boston by water, and from there will go to New York and Atlantic City. In the morning the bride will be at home with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Turner, at Chevy Chase, for the summer. The bride's going-away gown was of black and white checked cloth, and she wore a large black hat.

The marriage of Miss Bertha Alice Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bridges, to Mr. Charles Edgar Nelson, formerly of Bluffton, Ind., now of this city, took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents. Clagett, and Mr. Richard Dulany Hall, of Virginia, took place yesterday noon at the home of the bride's mother in U street, Rev. Norman Hall, of Virginia, uncle of the bride, performing the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends.
